LARGEST EXTRA VOTE CAMPAIGN CLOSES WEDNESDAY EVENING

All Candidates Putting Forth Every Effort in Big Drive.
Campaign Closes Wednesday, September 29th.
Votes Counted Again Friday.

The second week of the big drive now in progress on the Crittenden Press proves that active candidates are still making every effort to get all subscriptions possible before the close of the largest extra vote offer on Wednesday, and when it is taken into consideration that each subscription taken before the close of this offer averages three times as many votes as will be allowed during the closing period, it is readily seen just why every contestant is so anxious to collect every possible subscription on or before Wednesday. An extra bonus of 50,000 votes is given on each and every ten dollars in subscriptions turned in on or before this date and every candidate may rest assured that never at any other time of this campaign will so many votes be given.

Will You Be A Winner?

This is a question which is facing every candidate just at this time. This question can best be answered by the candidates themselves. It simply resolves itself into the question of whether or not you will put forth your best efforts, or be satisfied to win one of the minor prizes, when by a little extra effort the beautiful Dodge could be yours. Do not expect to win this valuable prize by turning in the few subscriptions which you have taken in your immediate neighborhood, but go out and solicit every one throughout the county, regardless of whether they number among your personal friends or not, and your reward will be greater in just two short weeks when the judges make their final decision.

Contest Closes September 29

The contest will close at eight o'clock p. m. on September 29th regardless of the number of subscriptions taken and this date cannot be prolonged or extended under any circumstances, so Miss Contestant, do not blame anyone but yourself if you fail to win one of the capital prizes as it is necessary to take advantage of the time allotted you, as no extra time can be allowed in which to get votes. There remain hundreds of subscriptions yet to be taken thru here and more in the surrounding territory, so get exceedingly busy now, or forever kiss this lifelong opportunity goodbye.

BIG PREMIUM LIST AT TRI STATE FAIR

MEMPHIS—With a premium list of more than $50,000 cash, with greatly increased facilities in every department, and with entries pouring in at an unprecedented rate, preparations are being rapidly completed for the opening of the 1920 Tri-State Fair at this place, Saturday, Sept. 25, 1920.

The livestock department, as usual, will be the outstanding feature of the fair. Every breed of beef and dairy cattle, swine and sheep will be in the show in competition for $35,000 in cash premiums. The Shorthorn show will be the big event in this division, the Fair Association and the Shorthorn Breeders having offered $10,000 for this breed alone; while the Hereford show with a premium list of $5,000 will be of almost equal importance.

Other notable attractions will be the Tennessee, Arkansas and Mississippi agricultural displays. The Poultry show, the Pet Stock show, the Sweet Potato show, the Apple show, the Farm Machinery show, the tractor show and the Automobile show.

The feature of the Woman's department will be a better Homes Institute, conducted by Dr. Ross Crane, head of the Art Institute, of Chicago.

Dr. Crane will lecture on art appreciation, home furnishings and decoration, costume design and kindred subjects of interest to women. Dr. Crane will bring a large collection of art work to the fair, including twenty original oil paintings by American masters.

Entertainment features will include "The Path of Progress," a spectacular pageant drama with 1,000 actors in the cast; to be given the nights of September 25th and 27th; harness races; band concerts, high class vaudeville, the Johnny J. Jones Midway shows and automobile races on Saturday, October 2nd.

REAP THE HARVEST

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 10.—After you have removed all the undesirable non-laying hens from your flock and provided them with good clean, well ventilated quarters, you should begin to feed a well balanced ration. In Circular No. 66, of the College of Agriculture a good workable ration used on the Experiment Station Farm is explained in detail. This circular is ready for distribution and can be secured for the asking.

Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Moore and daughter, Miss Roberta, returned from a motor trip to Owensboro.

IMPRESSIVE EXERCISES AT SCHOOL OPENING

The Marion schools opened Monday with public exercises in the auditorium.

After "America" had been sung ensemble Rev. H. R. Short spoke briefly and led in prayer. Prof. Jagers, the new superintendent, talked of his plans for the coming year and the members of the school board, as well as a few leading citizens made a few remarks.

Prof. Jagers made a good impression and will be sure to have the co-operation of our citizenship. He was born and reared in the hills of Hart county and has spent his life there except while in school. His education was received in the rural schools and in the Normal schools and as a student in State University. His special interests lie in supervision and administration. He taught for seven years in the Rural Schools of Hart county and since that time has been County Superintendent of Hart county. Under his supervision Hart county made some wonderful strides in progress. When he left there there were annually more than four times as many boys and girls who received County Diplomas as did when he went into office. When he became superintendent about 12 percent of the teachers had normal training, last year Hart county lead the Western District of fifty-one counties in attendance at the Normal School with an enrollment of 56 students. As result of his efforts Hart county has one of the best consolidated schools in Kentucky in the open country with modern equipment. He also brought about the establishment of two other consolidated schools.

Mr. Jagers is in school work from choice and a reverence for education. He has no time for the person who is not serious about teaching the childhood of Kentucky.

He is delighted with the spirit of the Marion people and feels at home among them.

$1,951,755 IS STATE ROAD ALLOTMENT FOR OLD KY.

WASHINGTON—Unless federal action is taken during the current fiscal year concerning federal aid road building, the resulting uncertainty as to the future of this work will seriously handicap Kentucky and numerous other states and cause the entire road building program to suffer a serious setback. Thomas H. McDonald, chief of the bureau of agriculture said recently.

"The last apportionment of federal funds to aid states in road construction under the existing federal aid act, became available July 1," said Mr. McDonald. "This is the largest apportionment yet certified under the federal aid act, amounting to 100 million."

"A deduction of three per cent of the funds will be made to provide for the expense of administering the federal aid act by the department of agriculture. The balance of $97,000,000 will be divided among the states in proportion to their population, area and mileage of post roads. The federal allotments to Kentucky on this basis amount to $1,951,755.43, of which $1,463,816.57 comes from the apportionment of the last installment of the 1919 federal appropriation, while the remainder comes from the last apportionment of the 1916 federal appropriation. If Kentucky absorbs this entire apportionment it will mean more than $4,000,000 worth of federal aid road construction will be undertaken in the Bluegrass state during the next two years.

"Under the law the states are required to enter into formal agreements with the secretary of agriculture for the construction upon which the money is to be used before July 1, 1922. Any money which is not taken up before that time will be re-apportioned among all the states in the same manner in which the original apportionments are made.

Officials of the roads bureau, however, point out that all previous apportionments have been taken up in the time allotted and in their opinion it is not likely that Kentucky and the other states will fail to absorb this last apportionment.

FARM BUREAU SIX MONTHS OLD

Born March 3, 1920—consequently six months of age on September 3—still very much in its infancy; yet the American Farm Bureau Federation has accomplished wonders in that short time.

The national roll call on the organization date was over 700,000 members and 28 states became charter members.

Since last March the states affiliated have reached 33 in number and the membership is over a million.

The official body contains 33 directors and the Executive Committee, and 12 directors chosen from different regional zones into which the United States has been divided.

Its directorate and leaders are selected from actual farmers and men who sense the agricultural needs of the country.

The officers have appreciated the functions and services the national farm bureau should develop and have taken up projects which the states could not as units carry through. The National Federation has recognized the problems affecting the farmers and will consider in due time every feature in agricultural leadership.

With but a few months activity the American Farm Bureau Federation has established a leadership and prestige in the Executive and Legislative branches of the nation, second to no other agricultural organization.

The American Farm Bureau Federation has canvassed the entire country for qualified men to carry forward and manage its important projects and departments and has established a financing program which will permit paying adequate salaries for such efficient help.

KENTUCKY LEADS ALL IN PRODUCTION OF OIL

WASHINGTON—Kentucky and Tennessee oil fields, grouped together because there is only one large producing company in Tennessee, led all states east of the Mississippi River in production of petroleum during July, according to statistics made public by the Geological survey.

The Kentucky production, however, was less than that of May or June.

Kentucky and Tennessee produced 749,000 barrels, a daily average of 24,161 barrels during July. In June the production was 754,000, according to revised figures, a daily average of 25,133, and in May it was 768,000, a daily average of 24,774.

The production of the United States increased from 37,295,000 barrels in June to 38,419,000 barrels in July.

FORMER MARION PASTOR DIES IN ILLINOIS

TO PROBE FAILURE OF KENTUCKY WHEAT CROP

HOPKINSVILLE—Special efforts are to be made, if the co-operation of the state and federal bureaus of agriculture can be enlisted, to determine what is the matter with Christian county's wheat crop and to restore the productiveness here.

Until a few years ago Christian led the state in wheat production with an annual yield of a million bushels. It was considered as one of the banner crops and the broad fields of grain, extending in many cases as far as the eye could reach, were a sight worth seeing. Not only was the quantity high, but the quality was excellent.

But since 1914, this county has not had a full crop of wheat. This year was the flattest failure of all. There was not more than a fifth in yield and the quality was just as badly off.

All sorts of reasons have been given, such as the weather, the Hessian fly, the rust, etc., as the cause of the failure from year to year, but now it has about been decided that it is some fault with the soil which must have undergone some change. The use of ground limestone appears to help some but in no wise corrects the trouble.

So now County Agent Leland Bunch has applied to the state experiment station for a wheat expert to come to Christian county and remain through the sowing season which will begin now in a few weeks. It is hoped an expert will be sent and that he will be able to locate the trouble and prescribe an effective cure. The farmers will be quick to adopt anything that promises success, for they want to be able to produce wheat again as in the past.

A REUNION

On Sunday, September 12, Mrs. L. L. Price and daughters, Lena and Ethelyne prepared an excellent dinner of everything good to eat, of articles too numerous to mention. The dinner was given in honor of Mrs. Burma Threlkeld Wright, of San Francisco, a grand-daughter of Mrs. Price.

Those who remember going to grand-ma's will have some idea of what a pleasant day it was to those grand-children who were here.

Those present were: O. G. Threlkeld and family, including his son, Oren and family of Repton, and Burns and sons of San Francisco, Calif.; J. H. Price, wife and son, Rudell; H. H. Clark and family; Eugene Wright and wife and Lloyd Gilles.

Several kodak pictures were taken and the afternoon was spent socially with good music and singing.

The guests all left feeling that they had spent a very pleasant day with many praises and compliments to Mrs. Price and daughters.

STORING FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 13.—Every year people have trouble to keep fruits and vegetables through the winter. Much of this trouble can be eliminated and large amounts of food stuffs saved annually if a few simple rules are followed. The College of Agriculture has found that where good specimens of fruits and vegetables are stored in boxes or crates in rooms such as cellars or caves, good ventilation must be provided. This can be accomplished in several ways. First, make sure that all the containers as boxes, barrels, and crates have openings so as to permit a good circulation of air. Bore holes in sides and bottoms or cut slats in the sides. Second, be sure that some means is provided whereby there will be a good circulation of air in the storage room. Openings are usually found in the top of all cellars or caves but unless some means is provided to admit the cold air to the floor there will not be much ventilation even when there is an opening at the top. Often six inches cut off the bottom of the door will provide a good circulation of air. This opening can be covered with wire netting to exclude rats and cats. This circulation can also be provided by laying a 10 inch tile from the outside to the center of the floor. Remembering to have the outside opening at least two feet lower than the opening in the floor.

With these simple suggestions followed in providing a means of ventilation any one should be able to keep fruit and vegetables. As a rule the nights are cool in the fall and by opening all ventilators at night and closing them in the day it is possible to keep the storage room very near the night temperature.

A GIANT SUNFLOWER STALK

G. S. James in East Marion has a sunflower stalk in his garden that is three inches in diameter at the base, eight feet high 110 sunflowers on it. He says if he can get one cent each for seeds that it will bring him one thousand dollars. Who can beat it?

Miss Clara Belew of Decatur, Texas, who has been the guest of Miss Juliet Pope at the home of Mrs. Blanton Wiggins left Wednesday for Tishomingo, Okla., where she will teach.

LEVIAS

VOTES COUNT NOW

For many years we men have been told what would happen if women were ever given equal suffrage with men.

Now they have it. In future the vote of the humblest female citizen will count just as much as that of the president of the United States.

Acts, not words, will write the story of the future.

It is a matter of speculation as to just what effect the feminine vote will have on state and national politics, but the presumption is that it will have a tendency to purify the ballot and retire a certain stamp of politicians who have been seeking to lebauch the ballot for years.

Morally woman is unquestionably the superior of man, and if she demonstrates the fact that she is broad-minded enough to rise above peanut politics and vote for men of stability and character, regardless of political considerations, we may reasonably expect her advent to be one of supreme importance to the future welfare of our country. In such an event political leaders will hesitate long before attempting to foist upon the voters of their party a man who does not truly represent the intelligence and the integrity of that party.

Until women adjust themselves to their new station in life some no doubt will vote merely as their husbands do, while others will do their own thinking and vote as they please.

It is to the latter class that we must look for and material change from our present political methods and system.

The November election will tell much of the story, but few political forecasters are willing to make even the smallest kind of a prediction at this time.

The politicians themselves are all floundering in a sea of uncertainty.

The Master Commissioner sold the following tracts of land Monday to the highest bidder.

FORDSON

TRADE MARK

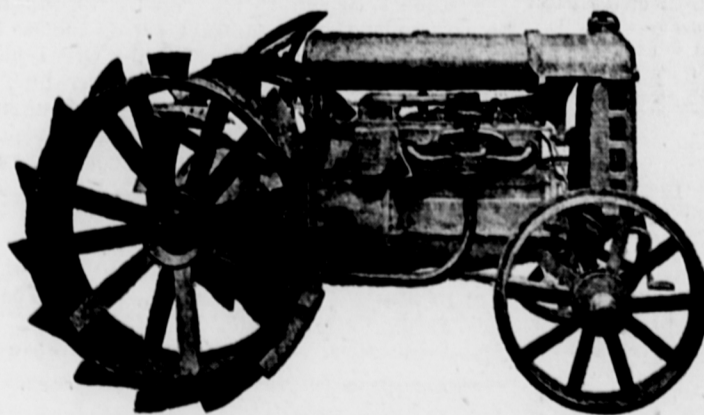

Farm Tractor

The Fordson cuts the cost of preparing land to almost half of what it costs with horses. But even more important is the fact that the Fordson saves from thirty to fifty percent of the farmer's time. And time saved—getting fields in shape to plant in the proper season; getting things done when they should be done—means money to the farmer. Besides it helps greatly in solving the labor problem.

As ever the machine way is proving more efficient, faster, easier than the old hand way. In the factory, the machine increases production, saves labor—produces more at less cost. And that is what the Fordson does on the farm. The Fordson way is the machine way of farming. Besides it helps the labor problem.

The Fordson's first cost is low; and the after, or operating cost is low. It is a compact, easily handled tractor, backed by the greatest tractor service organization in the world.

We are Fordson dealers. Not only do we sell Fordson tractors, but we carry a stock of Fordson parts and employ Fordson mechanics to help the farmers get the best results from the Fordson. Let us demonstrate the Fordson on your own farm.

HARDING TRADITIONS, AND HOPES

...e's Former Pastor Still
...ing Man Who Will Be
... Leader and Not Dictator.

FINDS IN SENATOR NO TRACE OF RADICALISM

Declares Justice, Kindliness and Mercy
Stand Out as Foremost Characteristics of Republican Candidate.

Included among the Minnesota Republicans working faithfully and industriously in behalf of Senator Harding, is Rev. D. B. Martin, of Winne-bag, Minn., formerly pastor of the Marion, Ohio, Baptist Church and Senator Harding's pastor. The other day Rev. Martin was asked just why he is so enthusiastic about Senator
Harding, and this is what he said:

"It is a peculiar pleasure for me to continue the work which I began twenty-five years ago. It was my privilege to stand on the side lines and boost for Senator Harding when he received his first nomination for public office. When he was a candidate for the senate I was visiting in Ohio and had the pleasure of boosting for him. It is, therefore, a peculiar pleasure to join with this bunch of Minnesota boosters in seeking to put Senator Harding over, in the greatest gift within the power of the people. Being a clergyman, I have been constantly asked by my friends
at the college commencement in Michigan, in Chicago and in Minnesota why I am such a persistent booster for Mr. Harding, and I have been asked to state in this presence my reasons for doing so. These are three:

"The first pertains to certain elements of his character. I will give you these as I received them while I was pastor of the Baptist Church in this city, of which Mr. Harding is a member. I asked him and a group of other men to make some Sunday evening addresses. I do not remember much that Senator Harding said at that time, but I do remember very distinctly the words with which he closed his address and which have stood all these years as outstanding elements of his character to me. He closed the address by a quotation from the Precepts, in which he said, 'And what doth the Lord thy God require of thee but to do justly and love mercy and walk humbly with thy God.' Justice, mercy, kindness and humility have in all these years stood as foremost characteristics of Mr. Harding's life—characteristics which are always attractive and make a man's life worth while.

"The second reason is because I believe that there is focused in him the best traditions, ideals and purposes of the great Republican party and so peculiarly fit him to be their leader in this great crisis of the nation's life. I use the word 'leader' advisedly, for it is leadership that we are needing and not arbitrary, dictatorial, autocratic rule. We have had enough of that. If a boss is desired there would be no need for making any change, for the boss that we have is the bossiest.

"The third reason is because I find in him no trace of radicalism. To me radicalism is the greatest danger that we have to face. Our interests are too diverse to admit of anything of that character. We have our agricultural group with its interests. We have the labor group with its interests. We have our financial interests. We have that other great group known as the public, that has always been made the 'goat' with its interests. All of these are of vital interest to the common weal and I believe that Senator Harding is broad enough and sympathetic enough so that the interests of each will be blended in the common interest of all, and all will be perfectly safe
under his leadership."

"READ THAT, MR. COX"
AND MR. COX DID READ.

A little incident connected with candidate Cox's recent campaign visit to New York indicates that the Democratic nominee is striving to forget certain indiscreet editorials which appeared in his newspaper, the Dayton News, before the owner of the paper
aspired to the Presidency.

As the Democratic nominee was leaving the Hotel Commodore after luncheon a commercial traveler forced his way through the throng of curious spectators and thrust into Mr. Cox's hand an editorial clipping which proved to be his denunciation of the commercial travelers of the United States. "Read that, Mr. Cox," commanded the traveling man. The Democratic candidate unfolded the frayed column of newspaper matter, glanced at the heading, scanned the first paragraph, dashed scarlet to the ears and crumpling the offensive and offending editorial in his fist mumbled something which none of those near him at the time would repeat and hurried to his waiting automobile.

In 1904 one of Mr. Cox's newspapers denounced the army of traveling salesmen as "unmitigated bores." What would he say now that he desires their votes?—South Bend (Ind.) Tribune.

The Woodcock.
The woodcock provides one of the finest examples of protective coloring that nature has ever made. His bright eyes, however fitted for the night work to which he puts them, are sometimes his betrayer. The female woodcock is larger than the male and its weight varies as widely as to run between eight to twenty-seven ounces. Woodcock is a tremendous glutton, so he is fat. The woodcock can fly either as lazily as a rail or as swiftly as a swallow.

REPORT OF COMMISSIONERS

Appointed to Change the Voting Precincts in Crittenden County, Kentucky.

In compliance with Section Four Chapter 64 of the Acts of the General Assembly of Kentucky, 1920, I hereby publish the report of Commissioners appointed by the Crittenden County Court, to divide the justices' districts of this County into Voting Precincts.

Crittenden County Court, Regular Term, August 9, 1920.
Present and Presiding, R. L. Moore, Judge.

Pursuant to the Acts of the General Assembly of Kentucky, Chapter 64, 1920, directing County Judges of each and every County of this Commonwealth to divide the Justices' Districts of each of said Counties into Election Voting Precincts, and establish the name, or number and boundaries of the same and the place of voting in each precinct, this Court did on the 12th day of July, 1920, that being the Regular Term of said Court, appoint Aaron Towery, W. R. Cruce, and George T. Belt, Commissioners to divide the Magisterial Districts of the County into election voting precincts. Now, therefore, this day comes the said Commissioners and in open Court file their report in writing, which report is approved and confirmed by the Court and ordered to be recorded, said report being in words and figures as follows, to-wit:

"We, the undersigned Commissioners, having been appointed by the Crittenden County Court, at the July term 1920, to divide the Magisterial districts of said county into voting precincts so as to contain as near as practical 350 voters, would offer this report.

"That we met at Marion on the 25th day of July, 1920, and, after being duly sworn, we proceeded to examine the several districts. We found that the county is composed of Eight Magisterial Districts. We also found that three of said districts are not susceptible of division, they not having more than the required number of voters, including male and female;
said districts are Union No. 11, Fords Ferry No. 15 and Bells Mines No. 16 and Rosebud No. 17. They are to remain unchanged at present.

In Marion Magisterial District No. 1, which is composed of two voting precincts, we found it necessary to create a new voting precinct, which is known as Crayne No. 7.

In like manner we found that Marion Magisterial District
No. 2, which is composed of three voting precincts, had to have a new voting precinct created, which will be known as Crayne No. 6.

We also found that Hurricane Magisterial District was composed of two voting precincts. Here we found voters enough to create a new voting precinct, which will be known as Blooming Rose No. 13.

We also found that Piney Magisterial District, which was composed of two voting precincts, had the required number of voters to form a third district; therefore, we created a new voting precinct at Fishtrap, on Tradewater River, and will be known as Fishtrap No. 20.

Also Dycusburg Magisterial District, which was composed of two precincts, contained enough voters for a new voting precinct, therefore, we created a new voting precinct at Mexico, and it will be known as Mexico No. 8.

For metes and bounds of all voting precincts described in this Report, are filed herewith and made a part of this report.

This the 9th day of August 1920.

AARON TOWERY
GEORGE T. BELT
W. R. CRUCE.
